

LOUISE JONES PROVIDES A CASE ANALYSIS FOR LEXIS NEXIS

18 Jan, 2019

Louise Jones provides a case analysis in the case of Coroner for the Birmingham Inquests (1974) v Hambleton & Others [2018] EWCA Civ 2081, [2018] All ER (D) 62 on the Scope of Interest and asks practitioners, what is the appropriate scope of an inquest where, for example, the identities of the perpetrators of the death/s are at issue?

To read full article click here.