

Ian Pringle QC

Silk: 2003
Call: 1979
Email: ian.pringle@guildhallchambers.co.uk

Practice:
Crime
Regulatory crime

Regulatory crime

All aspects including corporate manslaughter and health & safety cases. Whilst having a purely criminal practice in silk, Ian has considerable experience in regulatory work with 20 years practise as a junior in personal injury work, trading standards, and health & safety cases.

Notable cases:

Bridgend County Borough council v Upper Bay Limited (2008) – Prosecution of Swimming Pool Company for alleged breach of duty to child under Section 3, HSAWA 1974. Near drowning led to catastrophic brain injury. Trial commences 5 November 2008.

Regina v Chambers, Cradley Electrical and Wilsons Transport – reckless manslaughter. Implication of companies. Health and Safety.

Regina v Chatfield and Chandler – joint prosecution by Her Majesty's Customs & Excise and Inland Revenue. Car importing and evasion of duty and Corporation Tax. Ongoing.

Regina v Psaila and others – Prosecution of witnesses involved in the Lynette White murder tried in South Wales

Education:

The Edinburgh Academy
St. Catharine's College, Cambridge

Pupillage:

Farrars Building, Temple
Guildhall Chambers, Bristol

Appointments:

Recorder 1998

Professional memberships:

Criminal Bar Association

Directory recommendations:

Chambers and Partners 2010

Crime

Ian Pringle QC comes recommended for a wide range of crime matters including murder, manslaughter, rape drug offences and health and safety cases.

Chambers and Partners 2009

Crime

Ian Pringle QC has built up a fine reputation over the years, having worked on numerous significant cases; these include a cold case review of a historical rape and false imprisonment that resulted in the death of the captive.

CFA:

Yes

Interests:

Football

Rugby

Running and all sport generally

History

Politics

Scotland

Clerk:

Please contact Lucy Northeast (lucy.northeast@guildhallchambers.co.uk)