Adam joined chambers following completion of pupillage at a leading employment and discrimination set in London.

He is an experienced employment law practitioner, specialising in complex employment tribunal litigation and advocacy (representing both claimants and respondents), having previously worked as an associate for a national law firm and as a senior legal advisor for a large trade organisation.

Adam's experience includes the following areas: Discrimination; Equal Pay; Whistleblowing; TUPE; Trade Union; Unfair Dismissal; Redundancy; Working Time; Holiday Pay.

Adam has a first-class degree in law and achieved a grade of Outstanding on the Bar Professional Training Course (BPTC), both while studying part-time and working full-time, coming to the Bar from a previous career outside law.

He received the Tutors' Prize for academic achievement and extracurricular performance from the University of the West of England; BPTC scholarship and performance awards from the Honourable Society of the Inner Temple; and was selected as a finalist in the category of Law Student of the Year by the Bristol Law Society for his performance on the BPTC in 2018.

Adam now lectures part-time on the postgraduate professional law courses at the University of the West of England, Bristol, with a particular focus on employment law and civil advocacy.

Outside the field of law, Adam also has experience of trade union disputes, as a former trade union representative and as a trade association senior legal advisor, and in critical national infrastructure safety and security, having worked in nuclear, gas and government facilities.

Testimonials:

Instructing lawyer feedback: "Just been on a Teams call with Adam P and the witnesses. Adam P completely blew me away with his knowledge of the case and his bedside manner. He was great".

Lay client feedback: "Thank you for the good news. It has certainly been a challenging case through and through. Thank you for the significant time and effort you have provided these many months supporting us with this case".
