Jack Barros completed his pupillage in October 2023 and is a member of the Crime team.

Jack is a Grade 2 prosecutor.

Before starting pupillage, Jack worked at the Infected Blood Inquiry where he led a team of investigators and paralegals focused on a section of the Inquiry's Terms of Reference, specifically whether there was a lack of openness and candour in the response of public bodies and/or whether there were attempts to conceal details of what happened (and the extent to which those attempts were deliberate).

This work involved managing projects and investigations examining the response of government agencies and departments, as well as working closely with the Inquiry Counsel Team in the preparation of Rule 9 Requests to former government ministers and civil servants. Jack's work at the Inquiry was crucial to the oral evidence heard by the Inquiry throughout 2022.
