Kerry Gardiner is a specialist Employment & Discrimination barrister.

She acts for both Claimants and Respondents in all matters relating to Employment law including unfair, constructive & wrongful dismissal, redundancy, Transfer of Undertakings (TUPE), whistleblowing, breach of contract and discrimination.

Expertise

Employment & Discrimination

As well as representing clients in employment tribunals and judicial mediations, Kerry is frequently instructed to appear in the Employee Appeals Tribunal.

Kerry is regularly instructed to advise clients on the full spectrum of employment law matters involving both contentious and non-contentious issues, as well as draft pleadings for both Claimant and Respondent clients, and other employment-related documentation.

Kerry is pragmatic and down to earth, tailoring her approach to ensure that the service delivered to clients is bespoke. She meets individual requirements whilst offering practical solutions to cases that are often complex and sensitive.

Kerry also accepts instructions directly from the public – Public Access. To find out more about how Kerry can help you click here.
