CHAMBERS UK 2017

Employment

Leading Junior - Up and coming Individual

Frequently undertakes multi-week, complex discrimination cases, often involving medical experts. She has also appeared successfully in the EAT and plans to expand her appellant practice.

Strengths: "Her technical knowledge is excellent and she was a huge support throughout the case."

Recent work: Acted for claimant in Mills v Pennine Care, involving multiple allegations of disability discrimination. The case is now proceeding to the EAT on the basis of some perversity and misdirection in the law.
