

SAMUEL PARSONS CONSIDERS THE RECENT DECISION OF ICC JUDGE BARBER IN RE LONDON BRIDGE ENTERTAINMENT PARTNERS LLP (IN ADMINISTRATION)

Samuel Parsons considers the recent decision of ICC Judge Barber in Re London Bridge Entertainment Partners LLP (in administration), which held that the Lundy Granite principle did not extend to a contractual obligation to top up a rent deposit fund, even where that fund had been used to pay for rent.

Click here to read full article. This article was first published by Lexis@PSL on 19/11/19