

PROPERTY BREAKFAST BITES - 8TH SEPTEMBER 2022

8 Sep, 2022

Take notice!

Some recent caselaw and upcoming changes in landlord and tenant law.

William will speak about his recent case of Thomas v Turner [2022] EWHC 1239 (Ch) in which the Court of Appeal will hear a second appeal in October. The judges decided that a landlord's notice to quit was valid despite being addressed to the previous tenant and not to his company to which he had assigned the tenancy 4 days before the notice was served.

Michael will consider the white paper published just last month on the government's plans for the private rented sector – including the abolition of 'no fault' evictions pursuant to Section 21 notices – as well as reforms due to come into force in Wales before the end of the year

Schedule:

7:45am - Registration & breakfast

8:15am - Recent changes in landlord and tenant law, William Batstone & Michael Selway

9am - Networking

Please email seminars@guildhallchambers.co.uk with your name, company and email if you'd like to attend, or sign up via the below submission box.

Breakfast will be provided for all attendees, please let us know if you have any dietary requirements.

We look forward to seeing you there!